EDGE26

IRELAND'S CREATIVE ECONOMY SUMMIT

21 May 2026

Dexcom Stadium, Galway

A national initiative uniting industry, policy, talent, research, innovation and investment — coming together to strengthen Ireland's position in the global creative economy.

EDGE26 builds on the spirit of international creative industry gatherings to establish Ireland's own flagship platform for creative enterprise, collaboration, and innovation.

HOSTED BY

WHY EDGE26?

The creative economy is one of Ireland's fastest-growing opportunity sectors, spanning film, animation, games, design, immersive tech, and digital media.

It drives exports, innovation, and high-value regional employment, powering Ireland's international reputation for creativity and storytelling.

The West and North-West are already home to a vibrant creative ecosystem. EDGE26 brings these strengths together on a national stage with international visibility.

Startups and entrepreneurs are central to this growth story, and EDGE26 will showcase them alongside industry leaders, investors, and policymakers.

Researchers and third-level institutions are critical in driving skills, knowledge, and innovation pipelines, and EDGE26 will highlight their role in shaping the sector's future.

Galway, on Europe's Atlantic edge, provides a globally distinctive setting; authentic, creative, and connected to both heritage and innovation.

EDGE26 will convene:

Global and national thought leaders in creative enterprise

Policy, funding, and education partners

Industry founders, startups, and innovators

Researchers, academics, and third-level institutions

Investors and regional development agencies

EDGE26 establishes a legacy platform.
An annual summit that will grow into a recognised fixture on the international creative calendar.
